

FILTH TO THE FOUL

Expert Testimony in the McKee Rape Case

LISTENED TO BY A CROWD

Nothing New Developed in the Case. Tubbs of Sunnyside Could Not Identify McKee's Party.

But little of interest was developed in the trial of the McKee case, which was resumed at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon before Judge Jenkins. The crowd of spectators had increased, however, and every word of the easy details brought out was listened to with the most intense interest. The first witness placed upon the stand was George W. Tubbs, proprietor of the Sunnyside two years ago, when the alleged assault was committed. His evidence, however, was of a negative quality. He told on direct examination about what kind of a resort Sunnyside was, but failed to identify the McKee party as having been there on the night of October 22, 1921. His evidence did not seem to have any particular bearing on the case.

After Tubbs had been excused, Dr. Stephen A. Whinery was called on the part of the people. He swore substantially to the fact that he had been treated at the old St. Mark's hospital for spinal trouble and told about having assisted Dr. Hake in placing her in a plaster cast. He testified to having examined the complainant three several times in January, 1922, and related particularly the condition in which he found her and what his conclusions had been. On cross-examination Attorney Clay tried in every way he could to confuse and lead the witness into contradictory statements. The evidence elicited, however, was not of great value, much less for publication. Dr. William Hake followed Dr. Whinery and he told substantially the same story related by his predecessor, excepting only that his story was fuller and clearer, he having treated the complainant almost continuously since 1921. Dr. Hake was still on the stand when court adjourned at 5:45 o'clock.

BARTH HELD FOR TRIAL

He Decided to Make No Defense in Police Court.

The crowd that gathered in police court to hear Dr. Barth make his defense, yesterday morning, was disappointed. No testimony was put in and further examination was waived and he was held for trial at the present term of the superior court. Bail was fixed at $5,000, being raised from $2,000, the sum fixed for his appearance in police court. The defense objected to the fact that Judge Kennedy had reduced James J. McKee's bail from $1,200 to $500. Judge Haggerty said: "That is true, but he also dismissed the case and was mandamus by the supreme court." Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Rodgers argued that the bail was light considering the gravity of the offense charged.

George Carmody Convicted.

George Carmody of Caledonia was convicted in the superior court yesterday on a charge of resisting and obstructing an officer. Carmody is a saloon keeper and a fighting man. Not long ago he got into a fight with Robert Kennedy of Caledonia, and nearly killed him. He was arrested for that offense, but before he had been tried he came into the city and got drunk in a South Division street saloon and made a racket. When an officer went in to quiet the disturbance, Carmody attempted to do the officer in and was run in. He will be sentenced today. He will appeal the case, as it is claimed by his attorney that the information is defective.

Shepard Held for Trial.

Mayor Stuart appeared in police court yesterday for Harry L. Shepard, and after talking with him, it was decided to waive examination and Shepard was held for trial. Mayor Stuart said he could not tell whether Shepard would plead guilty or not.
